THE JETSETTERS GUIDE TO GLUTTONOUS GLOBETROTTING.

SNEAKY PARADISE

It's no surprise celebrities continue to flock to Los Cabos for some rest and relaxation (George Clooney, Tobey Maguire, Jennifer Aniston... ). A few hours from Hollywood, the Mexican paradise offers thrilling nightlife, pristine beaches and pockets of seclusion. If they don't already own a home or villa, they sneak away to Esperanza, an Auberge resort that was just designated as part of the Relais & Châteaux brand, one of only two in all of Mexico. The luxury boutique property offers 57 casitas, most with outdoor jacuzzis, personal concierge and fresh guacamole and margaritas made fresh on the spot at check-in. Esperanza is intimate and romantic, and return visitors can expect an array of new amenities. Indulge in the new Marie Veronique Organics at the award-winning spa, take a beachside yoga class with a guru and make clam ceviche and cook fresh fish over a bonfire on the beach after you go exploring the depths of the oceans with the new chef. — JIMMY IM
